

A Sweet Spot for Golf

San Diego is the Destination for ARF's Golf Tournament

Sponsors include EVAPCO, Inc., Frick by Johnson Controls, Gartner Refrigeration & Mfg., Mayekawa, and Refrigeration Systems Company

San Diego's climate and natural beauty make it a premier golf destination. Few areas can rival San Diego's diverse array of courses and landscapes, from the oceanfront majesty to the mountain views, golfers can play on one of the finest golf courses in the country while helping the Ammonia Refrigeration Foundation (ARF). Slated for 8 a.m. Saturday morning, March 13, 2010 before the start of the annual IIAR conference and whose sponsors include EVAPCO, Inc., Frick by Johnson Controls, Gartner Refrigeration & Mfg., Mayekawa, and Refrigeration Systems Company, the tournament will take place at Maderas Golf Club in San Diego, California. Help ARF reach our goal of raising more than $50,000 in funds for education and research that will benefit the industrial refrigeration industry.

One of Southern California's premiere golf destinations, Maderas Golf Club is quietly tucked away amidst the gentle rolling hills of North San Diego, just minutes from downtown, the Maderas Golf Club was voted the #1 course in San Diego by the 2002, 2003, and 2004 Zagat Survey. The course was designed by former PGA Tour player Johnny Miller and Robert Muir Graves, a pioneer in landscape architecture. It features stunning views of rolling hills studded with hundred-year-old oak trees, three crystalline lakes, five waterfalls, and forty acres of native wildflowers. The clubhouse features a bar and restaurant with indoor and outdoor seating, locker rooms and an upscale golf shop. A 25-station driving range and an oversized practice putting green round out this extraordinary golf experience. To learn more about Maderas Golf Club visit their website (www.maderasgolf.com).

The format for this year's outing differs from the typical "scramble" type of play and allows everyone to play their own ball throughout the match. A unique scoring system for the event will challenge the avid golfers to compete for the prize of individual champion while allowing the more casual golfers opportunity to have fun while helping their foursome compete for team prizes.

Make plans to come to San Diego early and support the refrigeration industry by participating in this important fundraiser. You may register as an individual and the event committee will assign you to a foursome OR you may purchase an entire foursome. This option provides you the choice of selecting your own teammates. This is an excellent opportunity to ensure you spend time with customers, clients, or friends. The tax deductible fee structure is $400 per player or $2,000 to select your own foursome. All contributions include greens fees, golf club rental, cart, golf balls, free roundtrip transportation between the hotel and golf course, continental breakfast, lunch and prizes. Further information is available at the ARF website, <http://www.nh3foundation.org>, or by calling Belinda Ross at 703.312.4200.

The Ammonia Refrigeration Foundation (ARF) is a non-profit research and education foundation organized by members of the International Institute of Ammonia Refrigeration (IIAR) to promote educational and scientific projects related to industrial refrigeration and the use of ammonia and other natural refrigerants.
